“Oh hello!
 Ah, you were at the door? We were just leaving!”
 “Where to? We have several errands to run: Returning books to the library, picking up an item on hold, and the florist to start-”
 “-but we’ll likely spend most of the day wandering about. It is beautiful outside after all.”
 “What? Did you expect something less mundane?”
 “Everyday is an adventure! Why treat it as any less in how we dress for it?”
 “Anyway, we had better be on our way—will you be coming along with us? You are more than welcome afterall!”
“Yes, join us!”

"I wonder, does it make more sense to take the bus or the train?"

"With you coming along too, we won't be able to take the motorcycle- I wish it could fit 3 people! But don't worry, this will just make it all the more interesting!"

"Hmm, shall we flip a coin on it?"
"Yes, let's!"
"What call do you want to make?"

"Heads we take the bus, tails the train? Sounds good. Here we go!"
"...Heads!"
"The bus it is! Then let's head up to our stop- it is a little bit of a walk, but you don't mind right?"

"Oh, you already have bus tokens to use up anyway? What a happy coincidence!"

"Wonderful!"

We're so happy to have you with us!"

“This way, it’s just up ahead!”

“I can see the bus arriving! It seems like we’re going to miss it-”

“We can wait for the next bus. It shouldn't be too long right?”

“Probably not. Oh well! We will just have to wait!”

“Hmm... Do you think the sweets store will still be open when we arrive at the shops? I've been wanting to see if they had any of my favorites in stock.”

“It isn't that late in the day, so it certainly seems likely! I'll look at their hours”

“Sorry about making you wait with us- it's always so hard to line up the walking time with when the buses arrive! We're happy to have you with us.”

“Oh look! Speaking of, is that the next bus stopped at the crossing? What a nice surprise!”

“Ah, I'm so excited to get into town! We promise, today will be a fun day!”

“I can't wait to get started! Let's go!”

"I always love the smell of the flower shop!"
"It makes me never want to leave!"

"Where to next?"

"What a fun day out!"

"Even though everything never goes as planned, that is what makes everything so exciting in the end."

"And even more enjoyable with you coming along with us!"

"I suppose we should see if that sweets shop is still open. It is a bit later in the day, but please let us treat you to something there if it is!"

"Yes, let's! What a sweet way to end our little adventure."

"Thank you for enjoying this day out with us."

Please, come along again next time!"
